

Pricing and Package Plan Offers

Broadstripe offers consumers a broad choice of packages and pricing plans, including both month-to-month plans and value priced plans that involve a term agreement. The month-to-month plans are best suited to consumers who may be moving in the near future and need to maintain a greater degree of flexibility. The value priced plans that involve a term agreement are best suited to consumers who expect to stay in their residences for at least 13 months and who are looking for the best value that Broadstripe offers. These plans involve a 13-month commitment with an initial 30-day trial period. During the initial 30 days, customers can choose to unsubscribe from service without incurring a termination fee. After initial 30-day trial period, if a customer chooses to disconnect their service or if their service is disconnected for not paying their bill, the customer will incur a $250 termination fee.
